

Global Ingredients that Set Your Table for Innovation.

At Rosina, we believe that the dinner table is an inspirational place where flavors from around the world are meant to be celebrated and enjoyed by those who love great food. In this spirit, we hope you'll allow us the honor of helping you set the table for your next taste sensation with our signature ingredients inspired by flavors from across the globe.

We Bring a World of Experience to the Table.

At Rosina, we blend our library of recipes and culinary traditions with five decades of food science expertise to inspire our customers with an entire world of unique and innovative flavors. With over 100 years of combined culinary experience, our R&D team is made up of highly trained chefs and food scientists. Utilizing a state-of-the-art test kitchen, they work with you to create innovative culinary solutions that meet your specific needs for your own product development. Over the years we have helped some of the most reputable companies in the industry to craft their own inspired culinary creations that have kept their customers coming back to the table for more.

Collaboration Sits at the Head of Our Table.

For more than 55 years, high-quality globally inspired ingredients have been at the heart of Rosina Food Products. We get to know you and your business by working directly with your product development, operations and logistics teams to better understand your needs and provide the insights and practical solutions you need to succeed. When you are ready to create innovative cuisine, we are always there, ready to roll up our sleeves and join you at the table. We know through experience, that collaboration always leads to greater success, and you can count on Rosina to always be at the forefront of flavor and market trends to keep you one step ahead of consumer preferences.

Ingredients that Set Your Table for Innovation.

Meatballs

Diverse and delicious, the Rosina lineup of meatballs lets you expand the creativity of your recipes while staying on-trend with current flavor and nutritional demands. Meatballs can be customized to almost any shape, size, flavor or texture to be the star in your next soup, entrée, pizza or sauce.

All our meatballs are available in multiple portion sizes and can be customized to meet your formulation needs.

Pasta

Rosina offers an expansive array of pasta varieties in numerous shapes and sizes, along with the ability to create customized formulations with trending proteins, cheeses and specialty fillings. Working together, we will help you craft a pasta that will fit your budget and delight your customers while becoming part of your next product sensation.

Toppings

Rosina is your authentic source for delicious and versatile toppings. Available in multiple shapes, sizes and meat blends, they are perfect for a wide variety of applications, including soups, pocket sandwiches, sauces, lasagna fillings and, of course, pizza.

Eggplant

As the largest eggplant supplier in North America, Rosina offers more options than anyone else. Perfect for either traditional recipes or innovative new ideas, our Rosina eggplant is always convenient, versatile and diverse.

There's always room at the Rosina Table.
